

DIARY NOTES - 4 August

1. At the Deputies' Meeting there was a discussion as to what we should put on the agenda for the Senior Staff Meetings. As a result of this discussion the Director suggested that we schedule a short presentation on the Honor and Suggestion Awards Program, the Language Development Program, and the Credit Union.

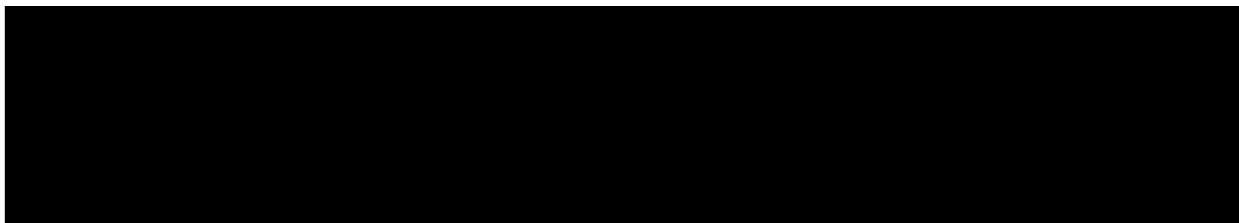

2. In reviewing our report on the Language Development Program the Director indicated that he thought we should step up our efforts in the Chinese language as well as some of the other more exotic languages. H

4. I telephoned Rocky Siciliano in the White House about our proposal to increase the salaries of our Category II executive employees. Since he was away on leave I talked to his assistant, Joseph Winslow, who said that he saw no objection to going ahead with this proposal. (I subsequently advised Bob Macy of this and he indicated quite reluctantly that the Bureau would not interpose any further objection.) H

6. I took Mr. Dulles to the Office of Logistics for a one hour briefing and question period. It was a good briefing; he seemed to appreciate it very much, and it was obvious that it was very good for the morale of the senior people in Logistics.

7. I talked to Colonel Edwards about the security survey of the Vital Records Repository [redacted] I asked that he undertake the study which has been requested by [redacted] but that he use the Records Management Staff to answer the first series of questions which relate to the sensitivity of the material in the vault. (I have also discussed this with [redacted].)

8. Ed Saunders advised me that Messrs. Crosby and Sprankle had again met with the Appropriations Committee to discuss what they should do about continuing liaison arrangements with CIA. They reached no decision but indicated that they definitely expected to do something. I, therefore, ~~was~~ raised this at the Deputies' Meeting on Wednesday and after some discussion the Director said that we should tell the Committee that this same question had arisen with regard to several other committees on the bill and that he felt obligated to discuss it with the White House before trying to reach some solution which would satisfy all of the committees concerned.
